

Free Legal Help to Fight the IRS

If you're in a dispute with the IRS and can't afford a lawyer, free legal representation exists. Low Income Taxpayer Clinics take on your case at no cost. Below are the resources. Tick the box once you've checked each one.

⚠ BEFORE YOU START

These clinics are free and independent of the IRS. They handle disputes — audits, denied credits, identity theft, collection problems — not basic tax prep. Don't face the IRS alone if you qualify for free help.

1 Get Free Legal Representation

Lawyers who represent low-income taxpayers against the IRS for free.

☐ Find a Low Income Taxpayer Clinic (LITC)

Free or low-cost legal help for IRS disputes if you're low-income. Find a clinic near you.

→ www.taxpayeradvocate.irs.gov/litc 1-877-777-4778

☐ LITC Locator (by State)

The official map to find your nearest clinic.

2 What Clinics Help With

The kinds of IRS problems clinics commonly take on.

☐ Audits, Appeals & Tax Court

Representation if you're audited, appealing, or petitioning the U.S. Tax Court.

→ www.taxpayeradvocate.irs.gov/litc

☐ Denied EITC/CTC & Identity Theft

Help if the IRS denied your credits or someone used your SSN to file.

→ www.irs.gov/identity-theft-fraud-scams

3 Free Independent IRS Help

Another free resource inside the IRS that fights for you.

☐ Taxpayer Advocate Service

Free, independent help when the normal IRS process isn't working or you face hardship.

→ www.taxpayeradvocate.irs.gov 1-877-777-4778

4 Know Your Taxpayer Rights

You have legal rights in any dealing with the IRS.

☐ Taxpayer Bill of Rights

Your 10 fundamental rights as a taxpayer — including the right to representation.

⚠ WATCH OUT FOR

A real LITC never charges large fees — services are free or low-cost. Avoid “tax resolution” firms charging thousands; for disputes, a clinic represents you for free if you qualify.

★ A TIP THAT HELPS

Act fast when you get an IRS notice — there are deadlines to respond or appeal. Contacting a clinic early gives them time to protect your rights before options expire.
