

Foundations & Corporate Grants

Big companies and foundations give away real money to small businesses every year — often with simple applications. Below are well-known national programs. Amounts and deadlines change, so always confirm on each site. Tick the box once you've checked each one.

⚠ BEFORE YOU START

These grants are competitive but free to apply for. Deadlines and amounts change often, so verify details on each official site. Never pay a third party to "submit" you to these — apply directly.

1 Popular Recurring Grants

4 Before You Apply

A little prep makes your application much stronger.

☐ Prepare Your Story & Numbers

Most grants ask about your mission, impact, and basic finances. Have a short pitch and simple numbers ready. A free SCORE mentor can help.

⚠ WATCH OUT FOR

Apply only on the official company or foundation site. Avoid “grant services” that charge to enter you — legitimate corporate grants are always free to apply for, and deadlines/amounts change, so verify first.

★ A TIP THAT HELPS

Keep a simple reusable application: your story, what you’d use the money for, and basic numbers. Then you can apply to many grants quickly instead of starting over each time.
