

Job Training & Career Resources

Want to learn new skills and land a better job — often for free? The government funds free training and job help for millions of people. Below are the main national resources. Tick the box once you've checked each one.

⚠ BEFORE YOU START

There's a nationwide network of free career centers (American Job Centers) that most people don't know about. They offer free training funds, coaching, and job placement. Start there.

1 Start at a Free Career Center

Your local American Job Center is the front door to most help.

☐ CareerOneStop — Find a Job Center

Find your local American Job Center for free training funds, coaching, and job help.

→ www.careeronestop.org/LocalHelp/local-help.aspx 1-877-872-5627

☐ WIOA Training Funds

Free training vouchers for eligible adults — pays vocational schools directly. Ask your Job Center.

2 Earn While You Learn

Get paid to train through apprenticeships.

☐ Apprenticeship.gov

Find paid apprenticeships in 1,000+ careers — earn a paycheck while you train.

→ www.apprenticeship.gov

3 Free Skills & Training

Build job skills at no cost.

☐ Free Online Courses

Many free courses build job-ready skills (Khan Academy, Coursera financial aid, library courses).

4 Special Programs

Extra help for specific groups.

☐ Job Corps (Young Adults)

Free education and vocational training for people 16–24.

→ www.jobcorps.gov

☐ Trade Adjustment Assistance

Help if you lost your job due to foreign trade.

⚠ WATCH OUT FOR

All of this is free through official .gov programs and your American Job Center. Avoid for-profit schools that pressure you into big loans — check whether free WIOA funds or a cheaper community college can get you the same credential.

★ A TIP THAT HELPS

Visit your American Job Center in person — the staff often know about training funds and local employers that aren't advertised online, and their help is completely free.
